A city auditor's report listed utility bills unpaid for a period of three months as of June 30 revealed that a published notice will be sent to all owners of property before July 31 after which all unpaid utility charges will be assessed on the city's tax rolls against the premises. Unpaid bills total $5,696 this year compared with $6,422 last year.

Council approved a contract for street improvements with low bidder West Shore Construction Co. at unit prices quoted, the total program not to exceed $160,000. Council currently is studying a list of streets recommended for improvement.

Council approved a settlement of $180 for Foster Kooyers plus legal expenses for property in broadening a curve at 32nd St. and US-31 bypass.

City Manager William L. Bopf reported on public use of the lakefront at deadend city streets, pointing out that citizens have a right to use these approaches but that they must not trespass on adjoining private property.

Council retained James E. Townsend of the Firm of Ten-Cate, Townsend and Cunningham as special council to represent the city in all negotiations and final settlement pertaining to annexation between Fillmore township and the city of Holland. This concerns a 50-acre plot annexed recently to the city. The greater share of the property is owned by Holland Motor Express.

On motion of Councilman Al Dyk, Council reconsidered the application of Robert Arendshorst for SDD and SDM licenses for a party store on Eighth St. and granted the licenses. Arendshorst has indicated that

Purdy's Letter Aids City's Stand On Sewage Plant

A copy of a letter from Ralph W. Purdy, executive secretary of the Michigan Water Resources Commission, to James O. McDonald of the Federal Water Quality Administration, substantially strengthening Holland's position in its differences with Ottawa county officials over Holland's proposed waste water treatment improvements, was read before City Council Wednesday night.

The Ottawa County Board of Commissioners on June 23 asked McDonald's agency to withhold temporarily Holland's federal grants pending a study on spray irrigation. Holland's program, which is partially financed by a $1,230,000 bond issue approved by public vote, calls for conventional secondary treatment and phosphorus removal, based on state standards. Its deadline is December, 1972.

City Council met with county commissioners July 7, and another meeting is scheduled July 21. County commissioners delayed action last Monday, pending reports on extended services to township. Holland city had been sharply criticized for charging "exorbitant rates" for services outside the city. One of Holland's chief concerns is the expenditure to date of $175,000 on its proposed program.

Purdy's letter to McDonald, a copy of which was sent to BPW Supt. Guy E. Bell, includes the following points:

1. Holland's proposed project will provide service to all developed areas of the city.

2. There are no identified problems that are not proposed to be served. Should problems develop in the future, the city is prepared to offer service to such areas.

3. The proposed project conforms to the recommendations of the Lake Michigan Enforcement Conference with respect to meeting both effluent quality standards and the time schedule for accomplishment. The city cannot unilaterally deviate from this schedule.

4. The proposed project will be capable of producing an effluent which will meet in every respect state water quality standards presently established for the receiving waters.

5. The proposed project is compatible with any foreseeable waste water management plan that may be developed for the area.

City Council also adopted two resolutions, one calling for Holland city to proceed immediately with plans for additional waste water treatment, and the other authorizing the city attorney to take appropriate legal action in case the city is prevented from carrying out its proposed program, including the possibility of injunctive relief.

Council also set Aug. 5 as date for the sale of $1,230,000 sewage bonds. The vote was unanimous and Councilman Lou Hallacy, who previously had favored delay, awaiting the spray irrigation feasibility study, said he was changing his vote and hoped it would be unanimous.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt asked what would happen if bonds were sold and the construction held up. Bopf explained such funds would be held in escrow until a treatment plant is built or an alternate course determined. In the latter case, another public vote would be necessary. Meanwhile, accrued interest could apply to paying interest on the bonds.

The first resolution setting up the bond sale date reviewed developments to date. Copies will be sent to Sen. Philip Hart, Sen. Robert Griffin, Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, Russell Train of the Council on Environmental Quality, Gov. William Milliken, David Dominick and James O. McDonald of the Federal Water Quality Administration, Ralph Purdy of Michigan Water Resources Commission, Donald Pierce of the Michigan State Health Department, Robert Fryer of the Michigan Municipal League, Attorney General Frank Kelly, Sen. Gary Byker, Reps. James Farnsworth and Mel De Stigter, and the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners.

The second resolution, based on local matters, points out that in extending municipal services to adjacent townships, that citizens of Holland have been paying 1 mill for capital retirement of the existing treatment plant, and since 1965 have been paying an additional mill, and that as of the implementation of the proposed treatment plant another mill will be added, making an aggregate total of 3 mills for capital improvement, liquor sales will be only a small share of his plans for a gourmet shop. That part of his business at Four Seasons will be moved to the new location. The voice vote was not unanimous.

not counting the service charge levied for use.

"It is totally inequitable for citizens of Holland to expect that services should be extended to neighboring townships without consideration for capital outlay that has been made by citizens within the city's jurisdiction," the resolution reads.

At the close of the meeting, Hallacy read a letter from Don Williams of the Hope College faculty commending the city for its positive action in combatting pollution but expressing the hope it would consider spray irrigation techniques. Williams heads the Holland Environment Council.

5 Injured In Collision Of Two Cars

Five persons were injured Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. in a two-car collision at M-21 and Clover Ave. and one of them was reported in good condition today at Holland Hospital where he was admitted.

Admitted to the hospital was Imanuel Sanchez, 30, of 216 Harrison, Zeeland, driver of one car. He suffered possible head, back and internal injuries.

Of the six passengers in his car, two were treated at the hospital and released. They were Diana Sanchez, 7, who suffered contusions of the nose, and Marguerita Sanchez, his wife, who sustained contusions of the right hip.

Driver of the other car was identified by Ottawa county sheriff's deputies as Richard R. Brink, 37, of 269 Westmont. Brink and one passenger in his car were injured. He was treated for fractured ribs, lacerations of the left leg and multiple contusions. His daughter, Kaylene, 4 months, was examined.

Deputies said the Sanchez auto had turned onto southbound Clover Ave. from westbound M-21 and was attempting to cross eastbound M-21 when the collision with the Brink auto, heading east on M-21 occurred.

Sanchez was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Two Breakins Investigated

Breakins at the Port Sheldon Norge Village laundry, 5666 Butternut Dr. and the Sand Trap on Ottawa Beach Rd., were under investigation today by Ottawa county sheriff's deputies.

Approximately $56 in cash was missing from a rear room and a soft drink vending machine at the washery along with a television set and a pair of walkie talkies valued at $219, according to the owner, Stan Berghorst of 17071 Beachwood St., who discovered the breakin this morning at 6:30.

Entry was gained through a rear door. Deputies said the soft drink machine was pried open despite the fact keys to the machine were found in the lock. A soap dispenser was broken into but the cash loss was not determined.

Thieves entered the Sand Trap near Holland State Park overnight and fled with about five cartons of cigarettes from under a counter. Entry was gained by removing part of a rear window, deputies said. The breakin was discovered by the owner.

Car-Motorcycle Collide, 1 Injured

Motorcyclist Robert Ter Haar, 19, of 653 136th Ave., suffered multiple abrasions when the cycle he was riding and a car driven by Nels R. Baile, 48, of 371 Waukazoo Dr., collided at River Ave. and Howard Ave. Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. Ter Haar was treated at Holland Hospital and released.

Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said Baile was heading north on River Ave. and attempting a left turn onto Howard when the southbound cycle struck the car in the right rear section. Baile was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Car Struck From Behind
Holland police cited Ronald L. Woudwyk, 28, of 238 West 32nd St., for failure to maintain an assured clear distance after the car he was driving and one operated by Steven R. Smead, 16, of 15738 Lake Michigan Dr., West Olive, collided Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. at River Ave. and 17th St. Both vehicles were northbound on River Ave. when the Smead car was hit from the rear.

Temporary Dump Set For County

GRAND HAVEN—The solid waste and dump problem in northwest Ottawa county was solved Monday by the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners and the Road Commission.

Grand Haven must close its dump site Aug. 1 on Harbor Island, used by Grand Haven, Spring Lake and Ferrysburg, as the State Health Department claims dumping of rubbish there is polluting Grand River.

The solid waste disposal problem has been studied for three years in the Grand Haven area. At a meeting of the county board Monday, the Road Commission proposed that 65 acres of land owned by the Road Commission near Fruitport be used as an area dump.

The same rates now charged at the Grand Haven site will be charged at the new site, located in Spring Lake township. The site is at the intersection of Apple Dr., Old US-16, and 144th Ave. This site will be operated as a temporary stopgap until either a central county site, for permanent use as a landfill, or a permanent site in northwest Ottawa is selected. The new location is 5½ miles from the lift bridge over Grand River at Grand Haven.

It will be open half days on Saturdays and on two other days during the week, to be selected later. No license has been obtained from the state health department but local health officials claim that it will meet requirements. Use of the township lump in Grand Haven township was considered but this site does not have adequate cover material available.

Ronald Bakker, county road engineer, told the board that a contract will soon be signed with the South Ottawa Refuse Corp. at Holland, which will operate the present site in Park township.

The board's planning committee met with Allendale township board recently and the board accepted a report on plans for a proposed system of sewer and water services for the Allendale area. The board approved a plan to have the necessary engineering work done.

Ordinances Under Study By Council

Three ordinance amendments were introduced at a meeting of City Council Wednesday night, one referring to rezoning an area in the vicinity of US-31 bypass and 24th St. for the 324 Development Corp., another exempting Holland from tax exemptions for low and moderate cost housing projects, and a third for rezoning property in Fillmore township recently annexed to Holland city to be designated D-1 industrial.

The latter two were accepted for first reading and will have final reading at the next meeting of Council. The 324 Corp. ordinance was tabled until Sept. 2 in anticipation that during the interim a C-4 zoning will be presented, specifically designed for such developments as shopping center. The Planning Commission is drafting such an ordinance.

Councilman Robert Dykstra said he had received complaints on noise at Bohn Aluminum and City Manager William L. Bopf said he already had investigated and found the company has been using temporary compressors in unheated areas while other compressors are overhauled. This situation will continue three weeks or less and the company has agreed not to operate the equipment between 4 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Witnesses, residents in the area, removed him from the cockpit and administered first aid. He was taken to Holland Hospital for treatment of head lacerations.

County Calls Sewer Meet On Tuesday

GRAND HAVEN — William L. Kennedy of Allendale, chairman of the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners, today called a meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in room 106 of the Ottawa county building for an informal discussion on waste water treatment for the Black River and Lake Macatawa basin.

Kennedy explained that the county board feels such a meeting is necessary because "Holland city officials were not present at the July 13 board meeting to explain the present plan of solid waste water treatment and how it could serve the surrounding area."

The invitation is directed to the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners, Zeeland City Council, Holland City Council, Holland Township Board, Zeeland Township Board and Park Township Board.

The county board Monday devoted an hour and a quarter to discussing Holland city's proposed sewer treatment improvements. The county board on June 23 had asked federal authorities to withhold temporarily federal grants for Holland's program, pending a report of Bauer Engineering on the spray irrigation method. Holland's program calls for secondary treatment and phosphate removal at the existing treatment plant.

In voting down Holland city's request 11-7 to withdraw its opposition, the board in asking another discussion meeting left the matter of who shall attend to Chairman Kennedy.

Shirley Johnson Arrives At 'White Cliffs of Dover'

(Editor's note: This is the first letter received from Holland's community ambassador, Shirley Johnson, who is in England.)

Dear friends of Holland,

Greetings from the wet Island Nation. I landed at the white cliffs of Dover last Saturday in the rain and it has rained every day since. Fortunately, English weather is flexible and the showers are frequently very light and short after which the sun reappears.

I'm living with a really wonderful family in a small community called Houghton-Le-Spring. It's on the northeast coast of England about 100 miles from Edinburgh. It's a coal mining district; very hilly with fantastic countryside. We are about 7 miles from the North Sea down in a valley. Other small villages can be seen on all sides, pinpointed by their tall church spires. This particular area is peppered with historic castles and cathedrals. Many date back to the time of the Normans or before. Their beauty and majestic splendor is beyond words.

My English parents, Oswald and Hazel Masters, have been married seven years and have two adorable boys; Paul, age six and David age three. Oswald works as a telephone engineer and Hazel is the local Avon cosmetic representative. They have made me feel very much at home here.

I have found the people in the northern part of England to be extremely friendly. Neighbors, relatives and other members of the community have been more than anxious to entertain.

I've spent much of this week with my family, becoming involved in their activities. Yesterday I visited the miners rescue station which serves 30 coal miners in the surrounding area. I was amazed at the amount of equipment and the number of men that are on 24 hour stand by in case of a mine disaster. I was outfitted in a rescue air lung and coal miners hat to go through the training tunnels. Next week I hope to go down into a mine itself.

The English people have one favorite pastime — eating! They do it heartily and very frequently. The sweets and cakes and biscuits are continually placed in front of me. At first I was worried about all those calories, but that was before I realized how much walking I was to do. Very few families have automobiles and must walk to and from work and any other place they might wish to go.

My Experiment in International Living is working out wonderfully. I'll have lots of impressions and pictures to share

Debris at Curbs Sets New Policy

The city of Holland has adopted a new policy in dealing with lawn rakings and the like left in city curbs.

City Manager William L. Bopf said the Department of Environmental Health has prepared a letter consisting of a courteous notice to be sent homes where such accumulations have been noted. A survey check will be made 10 days later, and if debris has not been removed court action will follow.

The city has only two city-wide pickups, lawn rakings for cleanup week in the spring and leaf pickup in the fall. There have been occasions when some street department employees have gone above and beyond the call of duty in removing debris from curbs, but abuses have led to the new policy.

OUR REFUSE AND WASTE PROBLEMS

All over the country we are finding that with more people there are more waste problems.

Out in California we find that a report on solid waste management urges "maximum reutilization and recycling of waste material in order to conserve natural resources and reduce the amount of waste to be disposed of."

This sounds like a good start and we are going to find that we are going to need to come up with a system or systems that will help to take care of the waste problems.

Many reports seem to indicate one of the chief problems is finding a way to handle the high cost.

Society will need to accept the high costs of finding ways and means to handle the recycling of wastes. Another one of the problems is bound to be the finding of available space to take care of all kinds of waste materials.

There is work for everyone. The situation will not just go away. We need all of the scientific know-how that we can find. Our population is increasing and there are more kinds of waste that seems to pose many problems with each passing day.

We are bound to need the help of local and Federal aid to aid in the further development of systems.

Man in God's Design
Genesis 1:26 through 2:4a
By C. P. Dame

Some questions which are popular today are answered in the Bible. This old-fashioned book is studied by some but neglected by others. This lesson teaches that God created man and gave him a special place in His universe.

I. God created man—man did not evolve. "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness" — so reads God's Word. The word "image" and the word "likeness" mean the same. The creation story reveals that the creation of man was a special event.

The words "in our image" state that man differs from the whole animal world. God gave man a mind so that he could think God's thoughts and understand His creation. Man was able to know right from wrong, he had a sense of oughtness. Man could love, choose, be free and fellowship with God and respond. God gave man authority in creation and told him to exercise dominion, which he is still doing more and more. Man was made to be God's representative upon the earth. God gave man honor, responsibilities and privileges.

The first man was not born, he was created. Today sex obsession is common. God created sex. God created man and woman with their complementary functions and responsibilities. The Bible frankly and honestly tells about sex — its dangers and pleasures and possibilities. God had a program for this world and Adam and Eve had a part in it and hence the words, "Be fruitful and multiply," for the world was then roomy.

God created man and made provision for his sustenance. Verse 29 says that man was at first a vegetarian and verse 30 suggests that animals were also to eat grass and plants. Genesis 9:3 says God gave man the right to eat animals for food.

II. The weekly rest day is of God. One day a week is set apart from the other days for a holy and special purpose—to rest from daily work. Rest does not imply loafing but is best gained when something useful is done and hence the call to worship on the sabbath. The observance of the day is old but it was legalized in the Ten Commandments God gave to Israel on Mt. Sinai.

III. God planned great things for man. Sin will not upset God's plan. A few verses from I Corinthians 15 are a part of the lesson text. Next week's lesson tells about man's fall which some people do not believe. God made man's redemption possible through Jesus Christ. At the resurrection the redeemed will receive a new body, like to the body Jesus had after His resurrection. This body indwelt by His spirit will fit man in the new earth which God is preparing for His own. Christians are now citizens of two worlds. The time will come when they will be citizens of the new city in the new world.

charging "exorbitant rates" for services outside city limits and said Holland was making a lot of money on the high rates charged outsiders.

Lawrence Wade of Holland felt it was all right for Holland to charge additional fees because of large capital investments. He said he appreciated that the situation faced by the Council and BPW was to tough one but "on the other hand I feel Holland has done only half a job. I don't like to see the program held up and yet I don't like to see $3 million dollars spent on a plant which may be obsolete five or 10 years hence."

Chairman Kennedy said the county is attempting to look at the total picture and the total problem.

Tom De Pree reviewed events on grants stating he had been called by Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to send a county delegation to Chicago and how HUD referred the group to the Federal Water Quality Administration.

De Pree plumped hard for a regional plan and pointed to the need for a high quality of water for Lake Macatawa. He said some way should be found to make this truly a regional plan, despite "the stick over the head of the State Health Department" in no compromises.

Lawrence Vredevoogd, the Ottawa representative who made a trip to Penn State University last year with a Muskegon county group to study the living filter operation there, said "Our problem is not with Holland or the county, but with the state. I believe the county board is right in taking a position for clean water." Vredevoogd said there is good reason to believe substantial headway is being made on federal levels through Rep. Guy Vander Jagt's office.

Vredevoogd added, "If an extension up to 90 days could be used to put pressure on the state to relax deadlines, perhaps we could reach an alternative."

Several commissioners said they did not want to endanger state and federal grants for Holland. Al Geerlings of Holland reminded them Holland could not wait one year, two years or three years, and asked if the county had anything concrete to offer.

Chairman Kennedy said by Sept. 15 the board should have an engineering plan from Bauer Engineers with sufficient information on scope. R. V. Terrill of Grand Haven reiterated that they should first develop a master plan and expressed concern over Grand Haven's high percentage of mineral wastes in a spray irrigation treatment.

If a small boy had proportionately the grasshopper's ability to jump, he could jump over his father's barn.

Medical examiner Dr. Warren Westrate ruled death by drowning.

Police said Mrs. Harris was last seen about 12:30 p.m. Thursday in the downtown area. Officers said the woman recently moved from an apartment and was living with her daughters and other relatives in the Holland area. Police could not determine when the woman entered the water in what they said was an apparent attempt to take her own life.

Holland police, Ottawa county sheriff's water patrol and the Coast Guard launched dragging operations of Lake Macatawa near Kollen Park after a sweater, a pair of shoes, eye glasses and a watch were found on the fence shortly before 8 a.m. and reported by Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf who was making a routine inspection of the park.

Police said they found a note in the clothing on the fence which bore the name of Mrs. Harris and an address in Holland. A belt and a comb were found on a shoreline retaining wall on the water side of the 4-foot high chain link fence where the clothing was found.

An employee of the H. J. Heinz Co. found the body floating in about five feet of water in a lagoon at the extreme western end of the enlarged park area. The body was recovered at 10:30 a.m. by Holland officers in a small boat.

The body was taken to the Dykstra Funeral Home. Arrangements were incomplete.

Set Civil Defense Test for July 31

A test of the outdoor warning devices in Ottawa County will be conducted July 31 at 11 a.m. Officials of the Ottawa County Civil Defense report that these tests are conducted periodically to test the equipment and to acquaint the public with the warning procedure.

There are two civil defense warning signals that are sounded on the public outdoor warning devices.

The Alert Signal — a three to five minute steady tone on sirens, horns, whistles and other devices. This signal is used for tornadoes and other local disasters such as chemical leaks, or any conditions endangering the local populace. The public will receive official directives from the local radio station.

The Attack Warning Signal — a three to five minute wavering tone of short blast on sirens, horns, whistles and other devices. The Attack Warning Signal means that an actual attack against this country has been detected and the public is to take shelter immediately. Listen for official directives from the local radio station.

Local radio stations which are part of the Ottawa County Warning Plan are WHTC and WJBL in Holland and WGHN in Grand Haven.

County Delays Sewer Action

GRAND HAVEN — Holland city's problems over delays in its proposed sewer treatment program remained unchanged today.

After devoting an hour and a quarter to discussion, the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners Monday afternoon voted further delay, pending another meeting in a week or so to which Holland City Council, the Board of Public Works superintendent, the county board and representatives of nearby townships would be invited.

The vote was 11 to 7 to call the meeting which was left up to Chairman William L. Kennedy to decide whether engineers would be invited. Commissioners specified that the meeting be held in the county building in Grand Haven.

Holland City Council had requested the county board to rescind action taken June 23 when it asked federal authorities to withhold temporarily federal grants for the Holland project in order to study the spray irrigation concept of waste treatment.

Holland voters last August had approved a $1,230,000 bond issue for providing secondary treatment and phosphate removal at its existing treatment plant, and federal and state grants covering 55 per cent of costs had been approved.

Among the seven voters objecting to further delay were three Holland commissioners on the board, Don Williams, Lawrence Wade and Alvin Geerlings. Another commissioner, Tom De Pree who had been promoting spray irrigation voted with the majority. The city's fifth representative, Robert Vissscher, was absent.

Others objecting to the delay were R. V. Terrill, J. Nyhof Poel and William A. Kieft Jr., all of Grand Haven city, and Marvin G. De Witt of Zeeland township.

Favoring the relay were Karl D. Ball, Franklin Schmidt, Robert Henry, William Kenney, Lawrence Vredevoogd, Harris Schipper, Peter De Kock, Bert Schuitema, Raymond Lamb, and William F. Winstrom.

Motion to delay was made by Winstrom, seconded by Schipper.

In a letter to Chairman Kennedy, Holland Mayor Nelson Bosman and BPW President Henry S. Maentz expressed appreciation to board members who attended the joint meeting in Holland July 7. The letter follows:

"During that meeting we had an opportunity to discuss the $175,000 engineering and legal costs thus far incurred by the city on its proposed secondary treatment plant; the state and federal deadlines that could not be met unless federal assistance were forthcoming; and the additional costs that would be incurred if the project had to be rebid. This meeting also served to underscore your concern with area-wide services and you were assured of our support in this regard.

"The role of extending services to neighboring communities is not new to Holland. As we recently reviewed in a new release, we presently are providing water and library services to Zeeland; water, sewer and electrical services to some adjacent businesses and residences; many of our recreation programs involve up to 40 per cent nonresidents; and we are currently exploring the possibility of providing water service to portions of Park township. Our current performance to extend municipal-type services wherever it is economical and equitable to all concerned.

"In view of the deadlines facing the city of Holland and the costs thus far incurred, we request that you reconsider your resolution of June 23 and indicate to the Regional Construction Grants program director that your commission does not object to the further processing of the Holland application."

A good share of the discussion referred to an informal meeting of the board last Thursday when members agreed to notify James O. McDonnald, program director of regional construction grants, Federal Water Quality Administration, that the board "has reluctantly withdrawn its formal opposition to proposed plans of Holland city for additions and improvements to its local sewage treatment plant."

The letter to McDonnald was not presented, but several members made reference to deleting or retaining the word "reluctantly" in the communication.

Park Township Commissioner Winstrom who moved for delay expressed concern over Holland's failure to present a map outlining districts in adjoining townships which would be served by the city — a service he felt was required because of state and federal monies involved.

Herman Windemulder of Park township, a former member of the county board, said he could sympathize with Holland over its problems but wondered why townships were not consulted when state and federal monies were involved. He was highly critical of city practices in Massachusetts when bad weather forced him to attempt a landing on choppy Lake Michigan about 250 yards south of the south breakwater of Holland Harbor. No one was injured on the beach. Kaiser was alone in the two-seater single plane which nosed over after hitting the beach about 1 p.m. Friday. (Sentinel photo)

FREEWAY ACCELERATED—State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth (center) points out the route I-196 will take through Ottawa county. With him are State Rep. Melvin De Stigter (left) and Sen. Gary Byker, both of Hudsonville. Construction of the final 24-mile stretch between Grandville and Holland will start next summer, accelerating the schedule by 1½ years. The freeway will run from Grand Rapids to Benton Harbor. (State Highway Department photo)

Local I-196 Link To Start in 1971

State Rep. Melvin DeStigter and State Sen. Gary Byker announced jointly today that I-196 construction between Holland and Grandville will begin next summer.

The Hudsonville Republican legislators said this marked a speed-up of a year and a half in the construction schedule.

Byker and DeStigter said the Highway Department had informed them that the 24-mile stretch of freeway will be finished in late 1973 or early '74. Completion of the Holland-Grandville section will finalize work on the major road. The I-196 freeway will then be open from I-94 near Benton Harbor to its junction with US-131 and I-96 at Grand Rapids.

Construction cost of the new Ottawa County freeway is estimated at $23.7 million.

"Both Rep. DeStigter and I have had voluminous correspondence and numerous discussions with highway department officials on this matter," Byker said. "I believe these contacts have been successful in convincing them of the priority nature of this program, and I'm gratified by their decision to accelerate it."

"I think it's also important to note the effect the interest shown and action taken by Ottawa County residents has had on this decision," DeStigter said. "I believe the many letters, phone calls and personal conversations our citizens have had with the Highway Department had a very significant impact."

Byker added that he and DeStigter have also been working toward an agreement with the department for bringing highway M-21 up to higher standards. He said that negotiations on this project are continuing.

Christian Jr. High Funds Meet Needs

The student council of Holland Christian Junior High has given more than $200 to assist persons in need in our community, according to Ralph Kickert, director of Community Action, who worked with the young people in locating the persons in need.

Part of the funds were used to purchase special leg rests for an Ottawa County invalid living in the Provincial House, state-owned nursing home in Hastings.

With the remainder, furniture was provided for a family which had recently moved to a larger home.

Student council representative

Tom Frens worked with the Good Samaritan Center and the Ottawa County Department of Social services in completing the projects.

AT WINDMILL ISLAND — Dr. Floyd W. Starr (right), 87-year-old founder of Starr Commonwealth for Boys at Albion, and Jaap de Blecourt, manager of Windmill Island, read the legend at the drawbridge at Windmill Island, showing the Dutch posthouse in the background. Later Dr. Starr climbed to the fifth floor of Windmill De Zwaan to see how it operates.

'Enchanting!' Dr. Starr Says

"I haven't seen such an enchanting sight for a long time," said Dr. Floyd W. Starr, venerable founder of the Starr Commonwealth School for Boys, as he viewed the towering Windmill De Zwaan, the Dutch buildings and the oldtime drawbridge at Windmill Island Friday afternoon.

It was his first visit to the local development which was dedicated in 1965 in the presence of Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands.

Looking at Black River, the island canals and the profusion of color in the summer plantings, the 87-year-old educator who founded the boys' school in Albion in 1913, said, "Beauty is creative. Boys need it in their lives; we all need it."

He added beauty is akin to love, using an old quotation, "Love is the universal solvent which destroys everything unlike itself."

Tremendously active, Dr. Starr climbed to the fifth floor of Windmill De Zwaan to see the grinding area of the 200-year-old mill, and then witnessed a demonstration of klompen dancing, something he had never seen before.

Dr. Starr has some Dutch blood too, on his mother's side, and he's proud of it. And in his visits to Europe, he found he liked the Netherlands best and Ireland second. "The Dutch are orderly people and they love beauty, particularly flowers," he said, "Those are wonderful characteristics for any people."

May Burn Municipal Brush Occasionally

In checking with the Environmental Health section of the Michigan Department of Health, city officials have been reassured that a limited amount of controlled burning of brush and tree trimming material is allowed.

City Manager William L. Bopf has advised the park department to proceed in occasional controlled burning of brush collections at Pilgrim Home cemetery, emphasizing that such burning should not be of a routine nature and should be controlled so as not to create a nuisance.

The state department has put major emphasis at this time on industrial waste pollution, and the burning of municipal tree trimmings and wood cuttings occupies a low priority on their concern toward the eventual resolution of the environmental problem, Bopf was informed.

Sewer Grant Slated For Infirmary

Ottawa County is to receive a water pollution control grant of nearly $19,000 from the state.

The announcement was made by State Rep. Melvin DeStigter (R-Hudsonville), who was given advance notice by the Department of Natural Resources.

The actual amount of the grant is $18,960. This will cover a little more than half the estimated construction cost of $37,800 that is eligible for state aid. The assistance is being offered to help construction of an intercepting sewer, a two-cell waste stabilization pond, and effluent irrigation.
